For Immediate Release: MPG Expands Builders Risk Program Nationally

Maritime Program Group (MPG) announced the national expansion of their very successful Builder's Risk program with North American Specialty (A Swiss Re Company - A+ Rated by S&P). The program started in 2006 to serve the East Coast states, but has now been expanded on admitted paper to all states throughout the U.S. with the exception of KS, OK and TX.

MPG's Builders Risk program includes coverage for Commercial and Residential new construction, as well as renovations. The program also has true coastal capacity with no coastal setback restrictions outside of the Gulf Coast and FL.

"The true strength and differentiator of our Builders Risk program lays in the flexibility and exceptional customer service we offer", said Mark Mercier, Vice President of Operations at Maritime Program Group. "It's our ability to offer pro-rata policies, monthly extensions after one year, and our brokers get the fastest turn around in the industry from underwriters that are 100% dedicated to what they do. Additionally, we have several other markets to ensure we can help our brokers write just about any type or size Builders Risk that comes across their desk". In addition to the national expansion of the product MPG recently added a new coverage extension that allows coverage to extend over buildings that are not under construction. "Many residential homes with additional structures that are not under construction can not find coverage as the typical homeowner policy is suspending during the construction period. Our policy closes that coverage gap assuring the homeowner maintains complete coverage for all of their structures."
